

“You never really understand a person until you consider things from his point of view . . . until you climb in his skin and walk around in it . . . until you stand in his shoes and walk around in them.”

Harper Lee (1926-2016)
To Kill a Mockingbird (1960)

Pupils in a Jesuit school are growing to be compassionate towards others, near and far, especially the less fortunate; and loving by their just actions and forgiving words.
