

“False words
are not only evil in themselves
but they infect the soul
with evil.”

Socrates (d.399BC)
Greek philosopher

Pupils in a Jesuit school are growing to be eloquent and truthful in what they say of themselves, the relations between people, and the world.

